Stockpile of Enemy Arms Found

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Fifty monster rockets that one American adviser said could "raise hell" in Saigon have been found only one day's travel from the capital, they were part of one of the biggest enemy rocket stockpiles uncovered in the war.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said it was the first capture of 240mm rockets, warheads of which are twice the size and nearly seven times as powerful as the Russian 122mm and Chinese 107mm missiles regularly used by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

"It's not anything like we've seen before," said an American officer. "Someone fabricated this, and it is not a mass produced item like you'd find in a Moscow parade."

Military spokesmen said the warheads probably had been improvised at arms factories in Cambodia and were hauled into South Vietnam on bicycles. Seventy bicycles were found with the rockets.

They speculated the big rockets were to be fired from crude launchers that would limit them to a range of one to four miles. The 122mm rockets have a range of seven miles.

The spokesmen said the 240mm warheads could carry 100 pounds of explosives, compared to 14 1/2 pounds in the 122mm rockets. Thus the 50 rockets had a total punch of 5,000 pounds of explosives, or one-twelfth of the average bomb load of a U.S. B52 bomber.

South Vietnamese marines found the new type rockets in a 30-ton munitions cache in 34 man-made caves in War Zone C, 60 miles north of Saigon and 18 miles from the Cambodian border.

The cache also contained 500 122mm and 107mm rockets; six launchers for the 240mm missiles; 15 anti-aircraft machine guns; 42 mortar tubes; 309 rifles; 10 tons of various small arms ammunition; three tons of rice; 2,000 uniforms; 500 field packs and some smaller bazooka-type rocket launchers. The rockets alone weigh tons.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said the find definitely helped to "neutralize the enemy's offensive capability" for an attack on Saigon during the holiday season before and after the lunar new year on Feb. 17.

The spokesman said the heavy weapons and ammunition, new and still in protective wrappers, were enough to equip two full North Vietnamese regiments of 3,000 men each.

Although the Communist command has announced a seven-day cease-fire for the holiday period next week, military spokesmen said captured documents point to some kind of offensive. Last year the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese shattered their Tet truce with their fiercest offensive of the eight-year war.

The 3rd Vietnamese Marine Battalion launched a sweep operation in War Zone C last Friday, transported into the enemy's backyard by American helicopters. They clashed with North Vietnamese troops several times during the weekend, killing at least 20 and capturing an engineering officer described by one marine officer as "obviously a very important man in this setup."

Blizzard Stalls Travel in the North

By RAY KOHN

Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A coastal storm left up to 16 inches of wind-whipped snow in the Middle Atlantic states and sections of New England today, playing havoc with air and ground transportation. New York City declared a snow emergency.

The Weather Bureau said at 3:30 a.m. EST that the storm's center had moved out into the Atlantic Ocean off Nantucket, R.I.

Originating on the Virginia Capes Saturday night, the storm left some five inches of snow in parts of Virginia, western and central Maryland and suburbs of Washington as it whirled northward.

It slammed into the New York-New Jersey area with winds up to 45 miles per hour, then pushed into New England, hitting all but northern New Hampshire and Vermont. Sixteen inches of snow fell at Scituate, R.I., near Providence.

Update New York missed the brunt of the heavy fall but for the first time in its history the New York State Thruway was shut down from Newburgh southward.

At Tarrytown, N.Y., about 35 miles north of Manhattan, more than 1,000 cars were stranded early today on the six-lane Tappan Zee bridge spanning the Hudson River. Motorists were asked to leave their vehicles and take shelter in a police building.

New York City streets were a white wasteland, with only snow plows, a few vehicles and wind-buffed pedestrians moving about amid stranded cars. Drifts of more than six feet were reported in the metropolitan area and suburbs. A 6,000-man sanitation force worked through the night to clear some streets.

All public and parochial schools and most private and city colleges closed for today. Many school closings were announced for northern New Jersey.

Kennedy, LaGuardia and Newark airports shut down. Kennedy was tentatively closed until Tuesday morning. LaGuardia hoped to resume service this afternoon, while Newark hoped to clear one runway sometime today.

Passengers bound for New York City jammed airports elsewhere, awaiting clearance.

The Long Island Rail Road, the nation's busiest commuter line, was halted Sunday, with a railroad spokesman voicing doubts that any trains might run today.

Fifteen persons were injured Sunday when an interstate bus skidded out of control on a Bronx expressway.

In Salisbury, Conn., the Northeast Ski Jump championships were postponed because of snow and wind conditions.

A number of power failures, mainly due to lines downed by icy coatings, were reported, particularly in Westchester County just north of New York.

Prisoner Exchange Discussed

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — Exchanges of prisoners is considered the most likely subject to be taken up first at secret negotiations behind the scenes at the Vietnam peace talks if and when they take place.

A flock of unconfirmed rumors have suggested for the past week that such secret talks already have started. The weekly conference sessions are deadlocked because Hanoi and the Viet Cong want to talk about the political future of South Vietnam while the United States and Saigon insist on discussing military de-escalation measures. Prisoner exchange is one subject which Western observers think could be taken up in private without either side compromising its position on how the conference should proceed.

The North Vietnamese are holding several hundred American airmen, and the Viet Cong is believed to hold a few dozen Americans in jungle prison camps. The Saigon government holds thousands of North Vietnamese regulars and Viet Cong "suspects," including all captured by the Americans.

North Vietnam has consistently refused to provide a list of the American prisoners it holds, as required by the Geneva conventions, or to allow Red Cross inspection of its prison camps. The American negotiators in

Raney Protests Non-Appointment

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former State Sen. James Raney said Saturday that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller without warning failed to reappoint him to the state Board of Review. Raney served in the Arkansas Senate from 1963-66 as a Democrat, but switched to the Republican party during his term because of Barry Goldwater, the 1964 Republican presidential nominee.

Republicans Check on Losses

By HARRY KELLY

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Around a conference table in a Capitol Hill hotel, Republican campaign strategists threw questions at 10 losers, trying to learn how to win.

The what-went-wrong brain storming session with a sampling of GOP congressional candidates and campaign managers who lost close 1968 races is part of — as one source put it — "the soul searching" and retooling in both the Republican and Democratic congressional campaign organizations.

With Richard M. Nixon barely settled in the White House, Capitol Hill's cool professionals have evaluated their 1968 election wins and losses and are already making special plans — with record budgets — for the 1970 congressional elections.

As a measure of the activity in the two campaign committees:

— House Democrats, after reported complaints of cronyism, inefficiency and campaign funds arriving too little and too late, agreed to beef up a campaign committee considered badly outmanned by the Republicans.

They have given the committee chairman, 82-year-old Michael Kirwan two assistant chairmen.

— Republicans intend to boost their campaign committee's budget to more than $5 million for 1970 from what they said was $3.8 million in 1968. "This will be an all-time high for us," said an aide.

— The House Democrats, after a series of meetings that included National Chairman Fred Harris, senator from Oklahoma, say they don't expect any help from the national committee because of the hefty $6 million debt left by the Hubert H. Humphrey presidential campaign.

They have set up a special committee to find new ways and means of campaign financing.

— Republicans hope to involve President Nixon in a 1970 hunt for campaign funds and winning candidates. They also plan to put a team of young congressmen on the road to emphasize a youth image.

Republicans, already a minority in House and Senate, are more worried about 1970 than the Democrats. They are haunted by the off-year boogie—that the party in power in the White House suffers substantial losses in Congress in non-presidential elections. The average for the Republicans since 1900 has been a loss of 41 seats, says Rep. Bob Wilson, chairman of the GOP House Campaign Committee.

To help GOP congressmen hang on to their seats, the committee allows vulnerable freshmen and all members from tough or marginal districts $3,500 a year for news letters, advertising, radio-TV time, and other forms of politicking. Other Republicans can draw $2,000. House Democrats claim they have no such kitty.

The GOP House organization also intends to give more campaign assistance in dollars and staff. An incumbent facing a battle, Wilson says, will be able to draw up to $7,500 in the next election, a $2,500 increase over 1968. Republicans in districts judged safer may get $5,000, up from $3,000.

In addition, says Wilson, the committee is aiming to make the maximum at least $10,000 for any candidate who appears to have a fighting chance to unseat a Democrat.

'Carrying Charge' Must Be Disclosed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board has issued sweeping regulations requiring businesses to disclose the total interest and service costs charged to customers buying on credit.

The regulations, which go into effect July 1, are designed to prevent gouging on credit purchases by requiring the seller to put in writing exactly how much interest and other charges the customer will have to pay over the cost of the item.

Released in final form Sunday, the regulations were an assignment given the Federal Reserve by Congress last year when it enacted a Consumer Credit Protection Act.

Congress divided enforcement responsibilities among nine federal agencies, with the Federal Trade Commission carrying the heaviest load.

Between now and July 1 the enforcement agencies will attempt to contact all banks, department stores, credit unions, mortgage brokers, credit card plans and other businesses that offer credit to spell out their new duties.

Finch was quoted by Young as saying that more compliance teams would be placed in the North and that the North would be treated the same as the South.

Sirhan Calm for Man in Murder Trial

By GENE HANDSAKER

Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — "We've got a sick man there," veteran criminal attorney Russell E. Parsons said of his client, Sirhan Bishara Sirhan. "I treat him as such."

An observer hardly would guess the gaunt young Jordanian is on trial for his life.

In court, charged with murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, he often smiles as though delighted with some private joke.

His darting brown eyes appraise miniskirted newsmen and other courtroom visitors. To a defense investigator visiting his cell he expressed the wish that a particularly striking blonde reporter would smile at him amid "all those deadpan faces."

The trial enters its fifth week today. Selection of six alternate jurors is expected to be completed, followed by opening arguments and launching of the prosecution's case.

Sirhan smiled at a courtroom artist's sketches of him, relayed through the investigator. During a recess he whistled as he entered a security room adjoining the court.

At the moment that a prosecutor was asking a prospective alternate juror if he could vote "death in the gas chamber," Sirhan was smiling and whispering eagerly into Parsons' ear.

"Down" periods come when he sits quietly and listens solemn-faced to the drone of questions from judge and attorneys to prospective alternate jurors.

Said his brother Munir, 21, "He's anxious to get rolling"—that is, for testimony to start.

Said his tiny mother Mary, 55, "Sometimes he is depressed, sometimes not, just as any other man would be."

Shuster Family to Jehovah Convention

Pictured above is the Eugene Shuster family of Hope, they, along with other local delegates, are finalizing plans to attend the Spring Circuit Convention of Jehovah's Witnesses in Paris, Ark., February 14-16, at the High School Auditorium.

Mr. Shuster, who is presiding minister of the Hope congregation, stated that the family attends three such conventions a year, each designed to increase Bible knowledge and appreciation.

Ministers of Jehovah's Witnesses receive no salary for their services but engage in secular activities to sustain themselves and devote as much time as possible to the teaching of the "Good News of God's established Kingdom."

Highlighting the convention for 500 expected delegates, will be the public talk, Sunday at 3 p.m., "Law and Order, When and How?" by Nicholas Kovalak Jr., District Representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

Gabby Hayes, Film Star, Dies at 83

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — At the age of 83, a veteran of burlesque and vaudeville, George Hayes began making his living as a jabbering old man.

The living was good for Hayes, who became known to millions over the next 59 years as "Gabby" Hayes, sidekick to cowboy stars.

"Yer durn tootin'" was his reply to Bill Boyd, the Hopalong Cassidy of Western movies during the 1940s, and to Roy Rogers, Gene Autry and others.

Hayes, grizzled and gravel-voiced to the end, died of a heart ailment Sunday at St. Joseph Hospital in nearby Burbank. He was 83, a widower since 1957. In 1960 he retired from show business.

Boyd, in Palm Desert, Calif., expressed great regret at Hayes' passing. "We loved him very much," said Mrs. Boyd.

Hayes was the son of a Wellsville, N.Y., hotel man who wanted him to join the family business. He ran away from home when he was in the eighth grade and joined a touring repertory company.

He and actress Dorothy Earle married and came to Hollywood together in the early days of talking pictures. Said Hayes: "My wife talked me into it."

In 1939 he was costarred with Boyd in an early Hopalong Cassidy movie and stayed around for dozens of Westerns. His other movies included "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," "The Plainsman" and "The Texas Rangers."

In 1957 his wife died. They had no children.

First Reformatory

The first prison for young offenders in the United States to be called a reformatory was opened at Elmira, N.Y., in 1876, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Child Care Probe May Run 2 Years

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — State Rep. James H. Harrell of Russellville, chairman of a special House committee investigating the Child Welfare Division of the state Welfare Department, said Sunday the investigation may last as long as two years.

The committee conducted its first hearing last Wednesday. Harrell said Sunday that the hearings, without doubt, were "going to have to get down to the personalities involved and people and what they have been doing."

"With an average of 1,100 children in (foster) homes every month and only 23 workers in the field, something is obviously wrong," he said.

"The Welfare Department, it was determined in the hearing, has one lady who decides who gets a child, if they get a child and what child they will get," Harrell said. "She has the power of a dictator, the absolute authority to decide these matters and has delegated herself this authority."

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Britain's Royal Shakespeare Company and CBS combined on Sunday night to demonstrate to a lot of Americans that Shakespeare not only can be readily understood but can also be fun.

In a rollicking production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" that occupied more than two hours, a skillful group of performers played the comedy as a boisterous, gay frolic. The only thing they took serious was its complicated plot—enough to keep a soap opera going for six years—that combined star-crossed lovers, magic spells, and pure folk comedy. Sometimes it was sheer slapstick, sometimes witty speeches, sometimes sheer singing poetry.

Taped in England, some portions of the play were shot on location, other portions on areas larger than the usual theater stage, so it was possible to give the play more atmosphere than one usually sees. There was a remarkable simulation of the dark and steaming wood where most of the magic and spells were worked out. During much of the play the lovers stumbled around the woods, mud-smeared and declaiming about love. At one point Diana Rigg—the only cast member well known to American audiences—delivered a long speech while crouched in the crotch of a small tree.

It was long, but it was thoroughly enjoyable.

Earlier ABC's "The View

from Space" proved to be a most ingenious use of space pictures used to construct a TV trip around the world as seen from 60 or more miles above it. Our small world, as seen in color or from afar is both beautiful and strong—oceans that looked like ebony; the Sahara like a giant sponge; the craggy Himalayas like oyster shells, and the Nile like a long dark worm. The program also demonstrated some useful applications of space pictures, notably finding potential new sources of minerals based on contours shown in the pictures.

"This is Sholem Aleichem," a special on NBC Friday night, was a warm and revealing document about the famed Yiddish writer, his observations and his work.

In addition to the weekend specials, ABC was busy trying to strengthen its schedule with three new series on its Friday night lineup.

"This is Tom Jones," the first, while taped in London, contained all the standard ingredients of an American TV variety hour—a popular recording star as host, a lot of singing by the host and guests, some dancing and, of course, a scattering of comedy. "Generation Gap," an audience participation show, followed. This pits three teenagers against three post-35 adults and each team attempts to answer questions about the others' generation. The program looked and sounded like a day-time show that had been allowed to stay up late.

And then, of course there was the new evening version of "Let's Make a Deal." That, alas, is just like the day-time version except that the head man gives away larger sums of money and more impressive prizes, like a pair of lions.

Going Gourmet

Consumer taste levels are rising. Household help is becoming more scarce. As a result, elegant cooking and serving products are demanded items.

Serving and buffet products, along with electrical appliances, account for 40% of the sales volume in housewares.

Gourmet shops are becoming more important daily, many of them with libraries so women can browse through cookbooks as they contemplate their adventure into gourmet cookery.

Hope Star SPORTS

Bobkittens Vs. Warren in Tourney

by RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Everything is at stake by district tournament time, as the Hope Bobkittens realize as they face the Warren Lumberjacks tonight at 6:20 p.m. in the first round of the 4-AA Championships at Arkadelphia.

It's been a long tough road for the Bobkittens this season, but in the past four weeks they have developed a burning enthusiasm to win that has contributed in the team's 10-7 record.

Seeded second in the bracketing, Smackover stands in the quarterfinals if Hope beats Warren. The four semifinalists go to the State AA Tournament next week in Magnolia, and Region 4-AA has had finalists for several years running in the state meet.

Also facing the perils of district tournaments are the Hope Lady Cats, who start the six-team fight this Wednesday night for the remaining state tourney position opposite defending state champion Ashdown. Ashdown has not lost the District 7-A title for senior girls since Hope won it five years ago, and the Pantherettes have lost only to Bradley this year.

Prescott is the top contender for the state berth, and they established their authority for going two overtimes with Ashdown before losing last week. Gurdon is also tough, having beaten everyone except the state champs in the district, and Nashville is much improved.

Those Nashville Scrapperettes battle our Lady Cats on Wednesday at Gurdon, and also in the first round Prescott's girls play Hope Yegger. With a first-round bye, Gurdon stands as the quarterfinal opponent for the Lady Cats after Nashville, and Gurdon has the true advantage of the home team.

This weekend brings the Bobcats' 4-AA Western Divisional schedule down to the final four games, with two road trips this Friday and Saturday and two home dates next weekend to wrap up the regular-season schedule.

Now 6-13 for the season, the Bobcats get another crack at the Texarkana Washington Lions this Friday night. Four weeks ago Hope led the Lions for a half, only to see Washington burn the nets in the final two quarters for an 83-66 win.

On Saturday the Bobcats and the "B" Lizards travel up to Arkadelphia to face the Badgers once more, in what is another make-or-break battle for the Cats. The 4-AA Tournament three weeks hence is completely seeded by the divisional standings, and any gain helps immensely.

Magnolia Coach Connie Maloch talked about the balance of the Eastern Division before his Panthers' 88-70 win over Hope last Friday, and Maloch backed up well the statement that five of the six teams in 4-AA East could beat any of the rest.

Before last weekend Crossett had taken the lead in 4-AA East with a 5-1 record, with the Eagles' only loss to Camden, El Dorado Washington and Camden have done well at home to tie for second at 4-2, and Smackover and Magnolia are 3-3. Warren is the cellar team at 0-6, but narrowly lost to Camden and Crossett in their last divisional games two weeks ago.

The big upset of the season in these parts came last week, when the same Camden Panthers overturned the powerful Camden Lincoln Tigers 84-60. No home-court advantage was involved either, as Lincoln and CHS use the same gym for home games. Lincoln is slated to take on Fairview again this weekend, and everyone is now shooting for the Cardinals' 22-0 mark.

UCLA Makes It 18 Wins in a Row

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
UCLA came up with an effective pain-killer for Lew Alcindor's headache, but Santa Clara might have trouble finding a remedy for Bud Ogden's sprained ankle.

A headache sent Alcindor to the bench early in the second half of UCLA's Pacific 8 Conference game against Washington State last Saturday.

The 7-foot-1 all-American left the game after scoring 10 points, but teammates John Vallely, Lynn Shackelford, Curtis Rowe and Kenny Heitz picked up the slack as the top-ranked Bruins breezed to a 108-80 victory, their 18th without a loss this season.

No. 3 Santa Clara, the nation's only unbeaten major power, extended its winning string to 20 with an 88-60 triumph over Pepperdine. But the Broncos lost sparkplug Ogden in the first half when the high-scoring, 6-foot-6 forward twisted an ankle. The extent of the injury was not reported as of Sunday night.

The two West Coast titans, heading toward a possible showdown in the NCAA Tournament, are idle this week until Saturday, when UCLA takes on Washington State again on the Cougars' court and Santa Clara visits San Francisco for a West Coast Athletic Conference scrap.

The Bruins, who have run off 38 successive victories since a two-point loss at Houston a year ago, are 10-0 in the Pacific 8 this season and lead runner-up Washington State by 1½ games. The Broncos, 7-0 in the WCAC, have a two-game edge on four pursuers but could have trouble staying unbeaten without Ogden up front.

Elsewhere last weekend, seventh-ranked LaSalle outscored No. 8 Villanova 74-67 in a Philadelphia summit clash and six other high-ranked teams won handily. No. 2 North Carolina bombed Florida State 100-82, No. 4 Kentucky trounced Mississippi 104-68 and No. 5 St. John's N.Y., stymied Army 65-43.

Sixth-ranked Davidson crushed George Washington 126-98, No. 9 Purdue whipped Northwestern 97-84 and No. 10 Illinois thrashed Iowa 98-69.

Vallely led the UCLA point-parade with 23 while Shackelford contributed 15, Rowe and Heitz 14 apiece. Ogden's brother, Ralph, and 6-foot-9 Dennis Awrey each scored 17, keying the Santa Clara attack.

Ed Szczesny came off the LaSalle bench and hit three baskets down the stretch as the Explorers got past arch rival Villanova for their 18th victory in 19 starts. Soph Ken Durrett topped the LaSalle scorers with 20 points.

Charlie Scott put in 23 points and Bill Bunting 22 as North Carolina ran its season mark to 17-1. The Tar Heels are 8-0 in the Atlantic Coast Conference but face rugged tests this week in North Carolina State and South Carolina.

Dan Issel's 26 points paced Kentucky's Southeastern Conference leaders to their 16th triumph in 18 games and Joe DePre scored 10 of 14 St. John's points in a second half getaway that sent the Redmen, 16-2, past Army.

Davidson rolled to its 48th consecutive home court victory behind 26-point performances by Mike Mayo and Jerry Kroll. The Wildcats are 18-2 overall and 7-0 in the Southern Conference.

Rick Mount's 31-point spree led Purdue to its sixth Big Ten Conference victory without a loss and soph Greg Jackson's rebounding and defensive work helped Illinois tie the 12th ranked Ohio State for the runner-up spot at 3-2. The Boilermakers are 13-3, the Illini 14-2 for the season.

Eleventh-ranked Tulsa raced to its 10th straight Missouri Valley Conference victory, topping Bradley 94-80 for an 18-2 season mark. Ohio State, 12-4, was upset by Wisconsin 77-73.

Kansas, No. 13, squeezed past Oklahoma 66-59 in overtime to stay within one-half game of 20th-ranked Colorado's Big Eight Conference leaders, who edged Nebraska 83-81.

But 14th-ranked Columbia bowed to Penn 91-81 and slipped two full games behind front-running Princeton in the Ivy League title chase. The Tigers beat Cornell 67-57 for an 8-0 Ivy mark.

Duquesne, No. 15, throttled Holy Cross 98-80 Sunday for its 15th victory in 17 starts. Saturday night, No. 16 New Mexico State beat Northern Illinois 63-59. Marquette riddled Eastern Michigan 82-58. No. 18 New Mexico got by Arizona 79-74 and No. 19 Dayton shaded Chicago Loyola 70-68 in overtime.

Crawford Sets Record for the 880

NATCHITOCHESS, La. (AP)—Star miler Jim Crawford of Harding College bypassed the mile here Saturday night to run in the 880 event.

Crawford responded by shattering the record with a 1:54.9 to highlight the 5th annual Graduate 'N' Club Indoor Track and Field meet.

Crawford holds the meet mile record of 4:10.5 but passed up the mile to concentrate on the half-mile.

Thomas Hill, an Arkansas State sophomore, zipped over the 60-yard high hurdles in a record seven seconds flat. The feat earned him the outstanding athlete award in the meet's college division.

Hill, who went to ASU as a high jumper and long jumper, has competed in the hurdles for only two years.

His time was two-tenths of a second faster than the meet record and only two-tenths shy off the world record.

Arkansas A&M's mile relay team broke the meet record in their specialty with a 3:22.8.

Finishing second to Crawford in the 880 was Pat Romero of the University of Arkansas, who clocked 1:56. Romero also came back for another 1:56 leg on the Razorbacks' winning two-mile relay team.

Other places won by the Razorbacks included Gary Carter third in the pole vault, 14-0; Bobby Pruitt third in the two mile, 9:40.1; and Conrad Gailther second in the 440, 51.8.

Fred Jackson of State College of Arkansas ran 52.3 in the open 440 and placed third. Arkansas State's Kenneth Sheldon earned a fourth in the high jump with a leap of 6-6. In the pole vault, Southern State's Tracy Devine also cleared 14 feet for fifth place.

A field of 350 collegians representing 18 schools competed.

ford contributed 15, Rowe and Heitz 14 apiece. Ogden's brother, Ralph, and 6-foot-9 Dennis Awrey each scored 17, keying the Santa Clara attack.

Weather Is Bad Even for Hockey Teams

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Give a medal to the Philadelphia Flyers for perseverance, and a point to the New York Rangers, Boston Bruins and Montreal Canadiens for coming back. But save the hat for Frank Mahovlich, who has done both for the Detroit Red Wings.

The Flyers spent close to nine hours on a train trying to get from Boston to New York Sunday night in a swirling snowstorm. They finally made it but then almost wished they hadn't after blowing a 3-0 lead and settling for a 3-3 tie against the Rangers.

Boston wiped out a two-goal Oakland lead with a pair of late goals to earn a 3-3 standoff with the Seals and Montreal erased a 3-0 St. Louis lead and tied the Blues 4-4.

Mahovlich had three goals leading Detroit to a 5-0 romp over Los Angeles, Toronto tagged Chicago 5-3 and Minnesota topped Pittsburgh 3-1 in other Sunday games.

In Saturday's action, Montreal defeated Minnesota 6-3, Oakland stung Toronto 4-1, New York blanked St. Louis 2-0, Boston edged Philadelphia 6-5, Los Angeles stopped Pittsburgh 4-2 and Detroit trimmed Chicago 3-1.

Philadelphia showed the effects of its long train ride, managing just 16 shots against Don Simmons, who played goal for New York in place of snow-bound Ed Giacomin. But the Flyers held a 3-0 edge with less than 10 minutes to play before the Rangers started their comeback.

Bob Nevin's goal with 42 seconds left to play tied it for New York after Simmons had been pulled for an extra attacker.

Bobby Rousseau's 24th goal of the season with less than five minutes left capped Montreal's comeback against St. Louis. Jean Beliveau and Serge Savard also scored third period goals for the Canadiens.

The victory stretched Montreal's unbeaten string against St. Louis to 12 games over two seasons. The game was delayed one-half hour when Referee Vern Buttery was injured accidentally by a Ted Harris body-check.

Derek Sanderson and Ken Hodge scored Boston's late goals to tie the Oakland after Gerry Ehman's early third period tally had opened a 3-1 edge for the Seals.

Phil Esposito, the NHL's leading scorer, picked up a pair of assists, running his point total for the season to 87.

Mahovlich scored his fourth hat trick of the season for Detroit and raised his goal total to a league leading 36. The big left winger, traded off by Toronto a year ago, had scored more goals this season for Detroit than he had in the last six seasons for Toronto.

His linemates, Alex Delvecchio and Gordie Howe, had the other Red Wing goals, giving the line 84 for the season. The NHL record is 105 held by Montreal's Maurice Richard, Toe Blake and Elmer Lach in 1944-45.

Danny O'Shea's controversial goal with just six minutes left to play, broke a tie and sent Minnesota to its victory over Pittsburgh.

O'Shea's shot went in and out of the net so quickly that Pittsburgh players claimed it never went across the red line. But officials allowed the goal and then Bill Goldsworthy gave the North Stars an insurance tally less than three minutes later.

Toronto roared off to a 4-0 lead and then held off a late Chicago rally to beat the Black Hawks and drop them in the NHL's East Division cellar. It was Chicago's fifth straight loss.

SMU Turns Back Hogs by 84-69

DALLAS (AP)—Gene Phillips scored 24 points to lead Southern Methodist to victory over Arkansas 84-69 Saturday night in Southwest Conference basketball action.

SMU hit 48.5 per cent from the field in the first half while Arkansas connected for only 40.6. The Mustangs rolled on free throws in the second period to go unchallenged in the second period.

Ricky Tannetberger and Robert McKenzie had 20 points and 19 for Arkansas. Bill Boight added 18 to SMU's score.

SMU is now 5-2 in conference games and Arkansas 2-5.

Mickey Mantle and his shadow turn away from home plate. Mantle says spring workouts will determine whether he will play another year.

Texas, Rice Get Shots at Leaders

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Writer

The University of Texas and Rice will take turns this week trying to upset Baylor and Texas A&M's lockhold on first place in the Southwest Conference basketball chase.

The Aggies play Texas Tuesday and Rice Saturday and Baylor meets Rice Tuesday and Texas Saturday as the second half of the SWC race begins.

The co-leaders survived early scares Saturday to retain their shares of the lead with 6-1 records. Baylor trailed Texas by 23-11 in the first half before winning 71-57. A&M also had to rally to defeat Rice 90-82.

Southern Methodist ripped Arkansas 84-69 Saturday to remain just a step away from the leaders and Texas Tech defeated defending champion Texas Christian 56-49.

It's beginning to look like a three horse race with the rest of the league presently battling below .500. Tech and Texas are closest to the break-even level with 3-4 records followed by Rice and Arkansas with 2-5 records and TCU with 1-6.

Texas appeared ready to break out of a two-game losing slump when it spurted in front of Baylor. But the Bears rallied and trailed by only 35-34 at halftime.

In the second half, the lead changed hands seven times and was tied four times before the Bears took the lead for good. Larry Gatwood paced Baylor with 20 points and Wayne Doyal hit 19 for Texas.

Mike Heftmann and Billy Bob Barot Rice the Aggies had to do some scrambling too.

Rice led 53-50 with 11:13 to play before the Aggies scored 12 straight points to take control. Jim Naples led Rice with 18 points.

SMU hits well from the field in the first half and then burned in 19 of 22 free throws in the second half to defeat the Razorbacks.

Reddies May Clinch Title This Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Henderson Reddies can clinch a tie for the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball championship this week by winning both their scheduled games.

And one of the teams the Reddies must face is Arkansas Tech, which is the only team that has beaten the Reddies in AIC play this season.

So far, Henderson has constructed a nifty 13-1 AIC record and an 18-3 over-all mark, to hold a two-game bulge in the conference standings over Ouachita.

Coach Don Dyer's defending champ Reddies start off their week tonight at Monticello with a game against the ninth-place Arkansas A&M Boll Weevils. Then the Reddies meet Tech at home on Thursday night.

Each AIC team has four league games remaining. Then comes the AIC tournament which will pit the loop's second through seventh place teams along with two independents in a single elimination affair. This tournament winner will meet the conference champion in a two-out-of-three show down for the trip to the national NAIA meet at Kansas City.

In other games tonight, Tech is at Hendrix, Arkansas College at Southern State, Ouachita at Ozarks and Harding at State College of Arkansas.

Billy Casper Captures Bob Hope Classic

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Billy Casper finally got off the launching pad and onto the victory stand. A position he occupied six times in golf in 1958.

A nonwinner in this new season, Casper forged from behind in the final round to capture the $122,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic Sunday at the par 36-33—72 Indian Wells Country Club.

The 37-year-old California pocketed $20,000 a nice start in a bid to repeat as the game's leading money winner. He was tops with $205,000 last year.

A last-round six-under par 66 for a 90-hole score of 345-15 under par for the marathon—was three shots in front of Dave Hill's 348 last round 66. Hill, from Evergreen, Colo., won his second largest purse, $11,400.

Such stars as defending champion Arnold Palmer, a former winner, Jack Nicklaus, as well as U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, did not fare well on the bright and sunny day.

Never serious threats, Nicklaus had a final 69 for 345 and $1,350 Trevino 71 for 353 and $1,800 and Palmer 70 for 356 and $755.

Casper and the sentimental favorite of the shows, Art Wall Jr., rounded the turn into the final nine holes all even.

Wall, the 1959 Masters champion and one of the tigers of the 50s, began to wilt and Casper virtually settled it all with an eagle 3 on the 478-yard 14th hole Billy hit a No. 4 wood 25 feet from the cup and sank it.

It was a breeze on in but Casper, a determined guy, went for another eagle 3 on the last green from 45 feet. The ball lagged up short three feet and he closed out with a birdie.

FOOD AND ARTHRITIS by Gaynor Maddox

NEW YORK — (NEA) —
"Arthritis," says Gaynor Maddox, author of "Foods and Arthritis," "is almost as much a disease of the mind as it is of the body. People think certain foods cause it while others cure it. Nothing could be further from the truth."

But convincing people that there's no hope in grasping at the straws of quackery with an arthritic hand isn't always easy and Maddox knows that, too.

In his role as food and nutrition editor for Newspaper Enterprise Assn., Maddox has worked closely with the nation's leading medical men and has been a regular contributor to Today's Health, a journal published by the American Medical Association.
He's the author of several books on nutrition and edited the "Cookbook for Diabetics."

"Of the more than 16 million Americans who have arthritis," says Maddox, "I estimate that all but about 10,000 think that a specific food or group of foods cause arthritis and that some special kind of tea or honey or some other exotic food will make arthritis go away. These people need a re-education, at least where diet is concerned. That's what the book is all about."

Maddox first became interested in the complex problems of food and arthritis four years ago when he was approached by the Arthritis Foundation to write a handbook on the subject.

"The more I investigated," the author recalls, "the more I realized that so many of the things that one hears about the ailment are nothing more than myths and old wives' tales. Right then and there I decided to consult with the leading physicians, biochemists, nutritionists, dietitians and other experts and write a book on the subject."

Among those experts questioned by Maddox were Dr.

It is better to reassure your daughter that tallness is no tragedy than to ply her with drugs to stunt her growth.
Female hormones often give preteen-age girls a new set of anxieties without completely getting rid of the original one. One doctor who uses hormones in such cases says that they should never be given unless both parents are 5 feet 10 inches tall or taller and the predicted height of the daughter (twice her height on her second birthday) is more than 70 inches. The treatment must be started before the child is 12 and her bone age is less than 12 years.

THE WELL CHILD

Children Develop At Varying Rates

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

A mother writes that her 5-month-old son cannot yet sit alone and has poor coordination when he reaches for his toys. She is worried that he may be mentally retarded. It is certainly too soon to make any such assumption because children develop at widely varying rates and many a slow starter later catches up and surpasses children his own age. But is this child really a slow starter?

Most babies don't sit alone until they are 6 or 7 months old and then for only a short time. At 5 months most infants use both hands—rather awkwardly—to grasp a toy and hold it very briefly. Coordinated grasping with the thumb and fingers of one hand usually doesn't come until they are 10 or 11 months old. Don't expect a child to be a prodigy at 5 months.

Q—How old should a baby be before he can stand alone? Would standing him on his feet earlier make him bowlegged?

A—A child usually stands alone, holding onto a chair or table, at 10 or 11 months and stands unsupported—for two or three seconds only—at 12 or 13 months. If a baby who is not yet ready to stand alone is placed on his feet, he will simply slump to the floor. Bowlegs are caused by excessive weight for the child's age or by a deficiency of sunshine and vitamin D.

Q—I recently read an article that said hormones could be used to curb a child's growth. My daughter, 11, is 5 feet 2 inches tall. Should she take hormones?

A—Although this is a controversial matter, I believe

Bottom row, same order, shows "Heldi," Eisenhower's Weimaraner; FDR with "Fala"; and "Feller," Harry S. Truman's pet spaniel.

Overheard Shaw, Oswald, Witness Says

by BILL CRIDER

Associated Press Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Perry Raymond Russo stepped up at Clay Shaw's trial today to testify he overheard Shaw, Lee Harvey Oswald and David W. Ferrie conspire to kill President John F. Kennedy.

Russo, 27, a witness with a "hypnotically refreshed" memory, told roughly the same story he gave at Shaw's 1967 preliminary hearing—but with one change.

At the preliminary hearing, Russo testified he overheard the plotting during a party at Ferrie's apartment in September 1963. He said he had taken a girl named Sandra Moffett with him to the party.

Today, Asst. Dist. Atty. James A. Alcock asked if anyone had accompanied him, and Russo, a New Orleans book salesman, replied:

"I am testifying I don't know if anyone accompanied me on that occasion."

Sandra Moffett, now Mrs. Harold McMaines of Des Moines, Iowa, has said she never attended such a party. The defense wanted her as a witness, but said she went into hiding to avoid their subpoena because she was afraid of Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison.

Russo pointed out Shaw, a 55-year-old bachelor, as the man introduced to him at Ferrie's party as "Clem Bertrams."

He said Oswald had been introduced to him earlier as "Leon Oswald" and was Ferrie's apartment mate. He has identified "Leon" as Lee Harvey Oswald from photographs.

Shaw is charged with conspiring to kill Kennedy. Oswald and Ferrie discussed the assassination at length, including plans for triangulation of fire and flying the gunners to safety.

Russo had told the preliminary hearing he didn't recall details of the party until a hypnotist provided by Garrison enabled him to relive the occasion.

The issue of hypnotism popped up at the trial during defense attorney F. Irvin Dymond's cross examination of prosecution witness Charles I. Spiesel, 50, a New York City accountant.

Over Alcock's objections, Dymond questioned Spiesel about lawsuits in which Spiesel charged he was frequently and unwillingly hypnotized.

Warmer But Wet, Is Forecast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Some showers are expected to develop in the southern portions of Arkansas late today and tonight.

The moisture is expected to move through the state ahead of a weak cold front.

Considerable warming is to take place through tonight but the front is not expected to alter temperatures much.

High temperatures over the state Sunday ranged from near 40 in the extreme northeast to the low to mid 50s in the southwest and extreme west. Blytheville was the coldest spot in the state with a high of only 39 degrees.

Overnight low temperatures ranged from 26 at Fayetteville and Little Rock to 36 at El Dorado.

14-Year-Old Held for Robbery

The Trading Post automobile agency has suffered a number of break-ins and burglaries in the past few months. Sunday night state police Sgt. Travis Ward captured a 14-year-old boy in the agency. The boy admitted past break-ins and stealing money.

Legislature Begins Work on Tax Bills

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Legislature, nearing the halfway mark of its 67th session, is expected to get down to serious consideration this week on many of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's tax proposals.

Both the House and Senate were scheduled to convene at 1 p.m. today.

The House Revenue and Taxation Committee was to meet at 10 a.m. today for public hearings on the industrial tax exemptions and on a bill by Rep. N. B. Murphy of Hamburg to double the tax from $5 to $10 on a barrel of beer.

The Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee has scheduled a hearing on the advertising exemption from the sales tax law Tuesday. It will hold hearings Wednesday on the sales tax, personal income and rebate bills Wednesday.

The Senate also faced further debate today on SB11, a bill that would repeal the three percent exemptions enjoyed by utilities, communications and transportation companies. Debate opened on the bill last Thursday.

Also, the administration's local option mixed drink bill could come to a vote in the House. Rep. Allan Dishongh, author of a similar measure that contains no local option provision, said he hoped to bring his bill to a vote today.

McLarty to Head Ford Sw. Dealers

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Frank McLarty of Hope Auto Co., Hope, Ark., and George B. Pugh Ford Sales, Crossett, Ark., have been elected by fellow Ford dealers in portions of Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas and Missouri to represent them on the Southwest Regional Dealer Council of the Ford Division of Ford Motor Company.

The election took place yesterday at a meeting of the Memphis District Dealer Council in Memphis. Dealers attending this meeting had been elected by dealers in the various zones of the district during initial stages of the progressive dealer council system.

At meetings of the regional dealer council the dealer delegates will elect two of their members to the National Dealer Council of Ford Division. It will meet with top company executives in Dearborn, Mich., March 24-28.

The dealer council system, with free elections of delegates by dealers at zone, district and regional levels, provides an avenue of communication between the Ford Division and more than 6,000 Ford dealers throughout the United States.

Following the national dealer council session a series of return meetings will be held at the different council levels for reports back to the dealers by those who have represented them.

Various aspects of the automobile business, including factory-dealer relationships, marketing, merchandising and advertising policies and programs, are discussed by the dealers and divisional executives in the series of council meetings. There are 360 zones, 35 districts and seven regions in the Ford Division organization.

False Alarm of Fire at Laundry

Hope Fire Dept. answered a call at 5:20 Sunday afternoon to National Laundry on South Walnut St. where there was a report of smoke coming out the back door. However, firemen found that it was only steam.

Opposes Cut in Exemption of Industry

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. James Harrell of Russellville urged the Arkansas House Revenue and Taxation Committee today not to recommend repeal of an act which grants industry exemption from the sales and use tax.

The exemption comes on materials used in the production of a product, which is later subject to the state sales tax when purchased at retail.

Harrell said Arkansas in the last two years had taken an attitude that penalized or discouraged industry.

He said the state should look to new methods of attracting industry unless it wants to be looking for revenue in the future.

"We could exempt industry from every sort of tax and the state would benefit 10 times," Harrell said, meaning taxes produced by employees would benefit the state in that amount.

Harrell said that the repeal last year of an industrial exemption from use tax on repair and replacement parts was damaging to the state.

He said that one industry planning to locate in Russellville would have paid $45,000 in use taxes under the repealed exemption. However, he said, the state would have shown a net gain of $144,000 by maintaining the exemption and collecting taxes from the 350 employees the firm would have needed.

Robert Millwee, director of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, set priorities for industrial exemptions, listing first materials used in manufacturing, processing and packaging.

Below that, he listed the exemptions for agricultural feed, seed, mechanical equipment and fertilizer; manufacturing machinery and equipment including replacement and repair parts; pollution control equipment; water, gas, electricity and coal used by manufacturers; boat and barge repairs for vessels engaged in interstate commerce and the personal property brought into the state by new employees of an industry.

14th Jet Hijacked to Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — A San Juan-to-Miami jetliner with 119 people aboard was hijacked to Cuba today after the pilot radioed: "We've got a man in the back with a gun on a stewardess."

Capt. William Latimer was some 350 miles northwest of San Juan when he reported to the Miami Air Traffic Control Center he was going to Havana, officials said.

Aboard the craft—13th of the year to be piloted to Cuba—were 111 passengers and eight crew members. It was the sixth Eastern plane to make the unscheduled Cuba run since Jan. 1.

The plane, EAL Flight 950, left San Juan at 8:30 a.m. EST. The DC8 stretch jet touched down in Havana at 11:07.

In the past, crews of hijacked planes had been allowed to bring the craft to Miami within a few hours of landing in Havana. The passengers usually were left behind until special charter planes were dispatched to retrieve them at Varadero, about 90 miles east of Havana.

Crew members aboard the plane were Capt. Latimer, William Horlacher, 1st officer; Richard Shaw, 2nd officer; Steward Vincent Doccio and stewardesses Susan O'Connor, Donna Madara, Carolyn Hammond and Gisela Sommers. All were based in Miami.

Today's hijacking was the first since Feb. 5 when a Colombian liner was hijacked and came after a week of hearings on the hijacking issue before the House Commerce Committee in Washington.

At the hearings, Stuart Tipton, head of the Air Transport Association of America, urged that the United States ratify the Tokyo Convention, which requires signatories to return control of aircraft to its commander in air piracy cases.

Tipton's group and the Air Line Pilots Association jointly offered $25,000 to anybody who provides information leading to the arrest and conviction of hijackers, but stressed the reward does not apply to apprehension of hijackers while in the air.

Little is known about what happens to hijackers after they are greeted by airport police in Havana.

Three people charged with air piracy have returned from Cuba.

Students Voluntarily 'Clean Up'

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A group of Pine Bluff youngsters devoted themselves Sunday to cleaning up the litter along Cherry Street here and around some of the favorite high school hangouts.

They said they were doing it to prove to the Pine Bluff City Council that they could behave and that they were aware their activities along the street in the past have caused neighbors and policemen some problems.

Strike of Police Looms for L.R.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cheered by cloudless skies, President Nixon extended until late today a Florida weekend mixing foreign policy talks with relaxation.

Nixon seemed sure to return to Washington Sunday when the day dawned foggy and drizzly. But the overcast moved away and better weather prompted the chief executive to take advantage of the congressional recess and remain an extra day.

The Florida White House said that in Nixon's absence, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew would preside over a meeting today of the Urban Affairs Council. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York was to outline his suggestions for an overhaul in parceling federal aid to the states.

Nixon Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the President and Rockefeller discussed the proposals earlier.

Huddling intermittently with Nixon in nearby Key Biscayne were his two principal foreign policy aides, Secretary of State William P. Rogers and National Security Affairs Adviser Henry A. Kissinger. Both will accompany him on his five-nation tour of Europe that begins Feb. 23. While here, they held a series of conferences, the latest Sunday afternoon.

C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo, Nixon's Key Biscayne neighbor and longtime friend, sat in at a couple of the sessions. Ziegler said that, to his knowledge, Rebozo will not make the European trip.

Freighter With 46 Aboard Is Reported Sinking in Atlantic

NEW YORK (AP) — A ship with 46 persons aboard was described by the Coast Guard as sinking slowly today 180 miles southeast of Nantucket, Mass.

The ship was the passenger-carrying freighter, Exminster, which the Coast Guard said was taking on water in its engine room.

The cutter Sherman was speeding toward the Exminster, and was expected to arrive in midafternoon. A Coast Guard plane was searching for the ship in order to drop pumps, the Coast Guard said.

Visibility was three to five miles in the area, the Coast Guard said, with winds of 35 to 40 knots.

The Coast Guard spokesman said radio contact has been maintained with the vessel since early morning.

The Exminster, owned by American Export-Isbrandtsen Lines, is 473 feet long and has a gross tonnage of 6,450.

No information was available immediately on its destination or port of departure.

490-Person Jet Makes First Flight

By JAMES RAGSDALE
Associated Press Writer
EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — The huge Boeing 747 jet airliner designed to carry up to 490 passengers flew for the first time Sunday and but for a few minor things, its Pilot called the test trip "absolutely ideal."

"It's a pilot's dream...it flies like an arrow," declared pilot Jack Waddell, 45, as he stepped from the cockpit of the $20 million, 355-ton prototype of the new fleet of superjets.

The flaw—an improperly aligned wing flap—forced the jet to return to Paine Field here after 1 hour, 15 minutes of a scheduled 2½-hour flight. The trouble was discovered 34 minutes into the flight.

The faulty flap—termed later by Waddell as a "minor discrepancy"—was discovered by Flight Engineer Jess Wallick at about the same time Waddell radioed feeling "a bump" during tests of the wing control system.

The 747 is about 2½ times larger than the biggest jetliners now in service, capable of flying 6,000 miles nonstop at a cruising speed of 625 miles per hour.

Its dimensions are massive—tipped on end it equals a 20-story building—and its four giant jet engines are amazingly quiet and smoke-free.

As Waddell applied conservative throttle, the jet appeared to lumber painfully along the runway looking deceptively slow for its takeoff speed of 196 m.p.h.

On takeoff and landing it appeared to hover gracefully like a kite rather than streak through the air as do its Boeing predecessors, the 707 and 727.

Sentences of Bank Robbers Are Upheld

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court affirmed today the conviction of three persons from Oklahoma in the $12,814 robbery of the Bank of Lockesburg Sept. 27, 1967.

Convicted were Ronald Steel, his wife Doris, and his brother, Carson Steel Jr., all of Broken Bow, Okla.

The brothers were sentenced to 15 years in prison and Mrs. Steel to five years.

The high court reversed and dismissed a case from Circuit Court at Benton in which Royal Crown Bottling Co. Inc. had been held to be negligent when a six-pack carton of their cola exploded, causing injury to the eye of a grocery store employee.

The employee, James A. Terry III, lost an eye as a result of the injury. Chief Justice Carleton Harris and Associate Justice J. Fred Jones dissented.

The Supreme Court ordered a complete trial in a case from Chancery Court at Magnolia.

The lower court had granted a motion of dismissal requested by the First National Bank of Magnolia in a suit filed by the Lafayette County Industrial Development Corp.

The corporation had filed suit against the bank seeking restitution of funds deposited in the bank to the account of Magnolia Steel Corp. The bank had challenged the sufficiency of the evidence and the lower court ruled in its favor.

Mobile Home Gypsy Image Is Vanishing

Homestead Industries, Inc., which is building a plant in Hope to manufacture mobile homes, is the fruition of a dream of about 10 years, Dick McQueen, sales manager for the concern, told the Hope Rotary Club last Friday at its luncheon meeting in the Town and Country.

"Today the mobile home is the most modern facility in the housing business," he said, "and the gypsy image once associated with this type of dwelling is fast disappearing."

The speaker revealed that the management team of Homestead averaged 35 years in age and 7 years in experience in the building industry. Stock in mobile home concerns is on the rise, and there is a great growth potential in this enterprise. Locally, the plans are to manufacture 10 mobile homes a day with 155 employees, when the plant is operating at full capacity.

Pictures of finished mobile homes were shown to those present, and they were impressed by the spaciousness, convenience, and beauty found in them.

President Harold Eakley appointed the three immediate past presidents, Clyde Fouse, Dr. Lester Stiles, and Paul Klipsch, as a nominating committee to select officers for next year.

WR Enters Memphis Dispute

MEMPHIS (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller suggested Sunday that Arkansas and Tennessee call in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to see if some type of federal guideline can be established to solve the problem of Arkansas indigents being treated at Memphis hospitals.

Memphis has threatened to cut off treatment for Arkansas and Mississippi indigents because of bills run up by residents in the two states. Hospital officials said the amount may be as high as $1 million annually.

Rockefeller said on a television program here Sunday that Memphis Mayor Henry Loeb does not have "any other choice" than to prohibit admission of Arkansas welfare patients to city-owned hospitals unless Arkansas can pay the costs.

Week-End Report of Hope Police

Hope Police Dept. Monday reported the following weekend violations:

2 traffic; 2 license; 2 liquor; 5 cases of drunkenness; 2 driving while intoxicated; 1 carrying concealed weapon; 2 disturbing the peace; 4 assault and battery and 1 other assault.

The total number of accidents so far this year is 27 and total number of injuries is 4.

Hickel's Appointee Draws Fire

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel, less than three weeks into his new job, is under fire again from Capitol Hill, this time for naming an ex-lobbyist to an undefined but high-level departmental post.

The appointee is James G. Watt, who registered as a lobbyist for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in 1967 and fought against stricter federal control over conservation measures in water pollution and reclamation of strip-mined land as a spokesman for business and industry last year.

One Interior Department official said Watt was "some sort of consultant or special assistant or something." A spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce said Watt would hold the title of deputy undersecretary but the Interior Department would neither confirm or deny it.

The Oil and Gas Journal described Watt as Hickel's "eyes and ears on oil." Oil Daily called him an "oil specialist" for the Interior Department.

Watt could not be reached, despite repeated calls.

Watt's job, whatever it is, rekindled smoldering Capitol Hill doubts about the conservation views of the newly-appointed officials at Interior, Hickel included. As a consultant or special assistant, Watt would not be subject to Senate confirmation.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., a leader in the unsuccessful fight against Hickel's confirmation by the Senate, wrote Hickel over the weekend protesting the appointment of Watt.

"Although I realize that you are entitled to hire those whom you wish to work on your staff," Proxmire wrote, "I think the appointment of a man who is so identified with the private interests can only create a credibility gap between your statements of concern for the public interest... and your actions as secretary of the Interior..."

Last year when the House Public Works Committee was considering new water pollution control standards written by then Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall, Watt opposed them on the ground that Udall was overstepping his authority. He also argued in written testimony that they would be too expensive for industry to implement.

The standards would have required a minimum of two stages of treatment for municipal wastes and "comparable" treatment for industrial wastes.

Watt said the standards would require two stages of treatment for industrial wastes as well—a point denied by Interior officials—and said that if the federal government insisted on such standards, the federal government should help pay for them by granting loans, tax credits and greater annual depreciation allowances for industry constructing new waste treatment facilities.

His position prompted a Capitol Hill source to remark that Watt "is willing to accept whatever industry has to do if the public will pay for it."

Watt also opposed Interior Department-approved legislation which would have provided for federal-state cooperation in reclaiming land mutilated by strip mining.

On May 10, 1968, Watt wrote Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, that the reclamation legislation was both improper and unnecessary.

RED GIFT to Cleveland Industrialist Cyrus Eaton was this troika, seen performing on Eaton's farm in Northfield, Ohio. The troika (a carriage drawn by three horses) was the second given by the Soviet Union to the Ohio millionaire. The first was sent 16 years ago by Nikita Khrushchev in recognition of Eaton's efforts for world peace and understanding.

Barkley's Grandson to Face Charge

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — The grandson of the late U.S. Vice President Alben Barkley is back in the United States to face charges of air piracy and kidnapping.

But Alben W. Truitt, 35, says he is guilty only of foolish conduct in events which led to him being charged with forcing the pilot of a chartered Cessna 177 to fly him from Key West, Fla., to Cuba last Oct. 23.

The FBI took Truitt into custody Saturday at the U.S.-Canadian border in nearby Champlain after he withdrew an appeal to an order deporting him from Canada.

Truitt, being held in lieu of $100,000 bail, was to be arraigned here today.

Truitt was ordered held in Clinton County jail after a hearing Sunday before U.S. Commissioner Joseph W. Kelley was continued until today.

The indictment against Truitt was returned Feb. 6 by a grand jury in Miami, Fla.

Truitt has said he was held under house arrest in Havana following his flight there.

"I just confess I was terrified," he said in a recent interview. "Anyone who makes unauthorized trips to Cuba 'may wind up dead,' he said."

Truitt said he is a journalist and went to Cuba to write a book.

He said instead he was finally placed aboard a Cuban ship bound for France, which he left at Saint John, N.B. He made a brief swing into the United States and then re-entered Canada. He was detained in Montreal Jan. 17.

Jews Expel 6 Arabs for Insurrection

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel expelled six Arab youths and a teacher from the occupied West Bank Sunday, charging they participated in or incited anti-Israeli demonstrations last week.

Today seven convicted Arab saboteurs began serving jail sentences ranging from 15 years to life for planting grenades in the Jewish sector of Jerusalem. The grenades wounded nine Israelis last August, touching off an anti-Arab riot by Jewish youths.

About 200 Arab youths demonstrated in East Jerusalem today, chanting the name of Yasser Arafat, president of the Al Fatah commandos and of the Palestine Liberation Organization. They called for a merchants strike but were largely ignored before police dispersed them and arrested 10.

There were other expressions of Arab opposition to the occupation. Schools were closed in tulkarm, Ramallah and El Bireh. About 80 women staged a sit-down strike in El Bireh's old mosque. Moslem and private schools were closed in East Jerusalem. Mounted Police patrolled outside the old walled city, while other police—some using walkie-talkies—patrolled the narrow, twisting alleys of the old quarter.

Amman Radio reported a possibly significant concession from Iraq. It said Iraqi Information Minister Abdullah Salim Samarrai told a news conference the Arabs should no longer advocate throwing the Jews into the sea or exterminating them. He said Iraq favors "establishment of a democratic Palestinian Arab state of Arabs and Jews" as a move toward settlement of Middle East problems.

But Samarrai also repeated that his government rejects any peaceful settlement based on the U.N. Security Council resolution of November 1967 because "it tends to liquidate the Palestine problem in Israel's favor."

Israel announced it would wait three months before putting into effect a law bringing Arab merchants in the Old City of Jerusalem under Israeli control. It postponed the date from Feb. 23 to May 23.

The law had prompted Jordan to demand a meeting of the U.N. Security Council, charging Israel was planning legislation "designed to destroy the character of the city and incorporate the Arab life and institutions into Israeli life."

U.N. observers said Jordan would press ahead with its demand for a meeting despite Israel's postponement.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

ALTOGETHER TOO FRANK
Dear Helen: Wiminini!
My wife was asked to give a speech to the PTA. She is pretty good at talking, and has spoken at various clubs, but she complained to me that nobody will give her objective criticism. The tendency is, when people get a free talk, to praise the giver, she says. So she asked me to be her critic at the PTA meeting. "Tell it like it is," she said, "And if I goof, say so."
How can one man be so dumb? I did just what she asked, wrote down all the things she did wrong, what needed improvement, how many "uh's" she had per minute. Oh, I did a masterful job — and how she is playing the "unappreciated" wife to the hilt. In other words, she is being kind and sweet and twisting the knife every chance she gets. I may never get out of the dog house.
Yesterday I overheard her (almost) turn down an invitation to speak because "My husband thinks I'm dull." No matter how I tell her I only did what she asked, I'm cruel and probably jealous to boot. Now, if I say she is a good speaker, she says I'm lying, and if I say nothing, I'm thinking bad thoughts. What it is written that Adam and Eve were the first and only persons on earth, and they had sons, no daughters. So how did the world get populated? Must have been a mighty busy snake for a while there. — TIM
Dear Tim: I won't answer, on grounds that anything I say, Bible can't say? — HONEST HUSBAND
Dear H.H.: Tell your thin-skinned missus that professionals thrive and grow on helpful criticism, while amateurs expect only praise: You mistook her for a professional — sorry!
— H.
SAVE THOSE WALLS
Dear Helen: That graffiti room was a tremendous idea, and shouldn't be brushed off easily, just because the man of the house can't think while staring at the written walls of his study. You wouldn't throw away a guestbook, so why paint out "guest walls?"
My suggestion is to put up traverse rods near the ceiling, and hang drapes all around the room. Then "Sir" can draw the draperies when he is working, but when there's a party, the walls will be there to sign on. — A.D.
Dear Helen: I'm not a theologian, but even one of those might not be able to figure this out. students will use against me. Will a theologian please step forward? — H.

The "Red Mass," named for the color of the vestments worn by the officiating priest, is celebrated annually to ask God's blessings on the administration of justice in the United States. It began in this country about 1928.

Congress in Recess, to Return 17th

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

The 91st Congress, its early weeks marked by general inactivity, is off on its first lengthy recess and there is little expectation the pace will quicken when the lawmakers return Feb. 17.
Although leaders expect President Nixon to make some budget recommendations and a few other legislative proposals in the next few weeks, Congress isn't expected to really get rolling until after the Easter recess in April.
The slow start is normal for a new Congress, particularly when there has been a change in presidential administrations.
Only two major laws have been enacted since Congress convened on Jan. 3. Most of the intervening time was spent on such organization details as selecting committees and getting them operational.
The first law hiked the salary of President Nixon, from $100,000 to $200,000 a year. The second provided $36 million in emergency financing for unemployment compensation payments to veterans and former government employees.
The pay boost for members of Congress, raising them from $30,000 to $42,500 a year, required no affirmative action. It was recommended by former President Lyndon B. Johnson and endorsed by President Nixon and included even bigger raises for some top government executives and judges.
The law under which Johnson recommended the raises makes them effective within 30 days unless either the Senate or the House objected.
The Senate defeated a veto by vote of 47 to 34. The House didn't even consider a veto resolution.
Last week Representative Talbot Feild Jr., introduced to the House of Representatives four visiting Kenya Members of Parliament. Left to right they are: Frederick H.G. Maiti, Abubakar Madhubuti, Amir H. Jamal, and Alexander K.A. Bly.
In the picture along with representative Feild is A.E. Laurencelle representing the U.S. State Department that is sponsoring their tour in the United States. At the conclusion of Mr. Feild's introduction and the response by Mr. Maiti the House members gave a prolonged standing ovation for the visitors.

Congressional leaders did try to get some other movement before the senators and representatives broke Friday for the traditional Lincoln's birthday vacation.
They pressured committee chairmen to get a start on legislation slated for early consideration and hearings were started on bills dealing with education, airplane hijacking and election law changes.
Still, the calendars for both chambers are bare for the return to work and, with the exception of Senate consideration of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, there won't be much major floor work to do for another six weeks or so.
The slow opening and the expected volume of proposed bills has congressional leaders resigned to a long session. They already have announced plans for the customary recesses in addition to something new—a month off in late August and early September.
There is talk about adjournment late in October.
But there also is talk about how long the Thanksgiving Day recess will be.
A critic of the Democratic operation recalls: "In the last Congress the campaign committee didn't meet until October 1967, one year before the election. Mike Kerwan told some stories about serving under Roosevelt. Then the speaker (John W. McCormack) got up and told some stories about serving under Hoover and Roosevelt. Everybody had heard age 18 and over. Prepare now for U.S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.
But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

Red Strike at Election Is Overcome

By HUBERT J. ERB
Associated Press Writer
BERLIN (AP) — West Germany's presidential elections are expected to fly to West Berlin for their March 5 election to evade new East German restrictions on surface travel to the Communist-surrounded city.
ADN, the East German news agency, said Sunday the restrictions become effective Feb. 15. It made no mention of the air links to West Berlin, 110 miles inside East Germany, since the air lanes are controlled by the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union, the four postwar occupation powers.
The ban affects the 1,036 delegates to the Federal Assembly, about 300 aides and assistants and all members of the West German armed forces. The assembly is to elect a successor to West German President Heinrich Lübke, who is retiring.
Representatives of the United States, Britain and France, whose occupation of West Berlin is still technically in force, were expected to issue a protest to the Soviet Union. A spokesman in Bonn said it would be "firm but low-key."

The West German government denounced the travel ban as "aggressive and peace-disrupting... a new violation of international law." A Bonn spokesman said: "The federal government is determined, together with its allies, to take all necessary measures to strengthen the viability of Berlin."
West Germany holds its presidential election and certain other governmental events in West Berlin to demonstrate the Bonn government's contention that the former German capital is a West German state. The East Germans usually complain about this and frequently think up some retaliatory measure like the travel ban to underline their contention that West Berlin has a special territorial status and is not part of West Germany.

Close, But not Close Enough

VIPITENO, Italy (AP) — It was only one-fifth of a second, but it was enough to cost Marilyn Cochran, a 19-year-old University of Vermont student, first place in the giant slalom of the City of Piopano international women's ski meet.
Miss Cochran whizzed down the 1,500-meter Monte Cavallo course in 1:15.48 Sunday, but Michele Jacot of France made the run in 1:15.27.

Club Bid Keeps Contract Low

Oswald: "Back in 1934 I proposed the use of a three-card club suit as a utility bid with hands like today's South. Prior to that time a spade opening would have been automatic."

Jim: "A spade opening would produce a two-spade or one no-trump response from North. South would be inclined to pass either bid. He would make either contract if he played the heart suit so as to pick up East's jack; otherwise he would be set."

Oswald: "Of course some people open one spade and rebid to two hearts over the no-trump response. That sequence would probably get a three- or four-heart bid by North."

Jim: "Yes, indeed. The club opening works out beautifully. South rebids to one heart over partner's one diamond. North raises to two hearts and South plays the hand there."

Oswald: "The play of the hand in hearts is instructive. South should not lead trumps. He could win the club lead or duck as a starter but the moment he obtained the lead it would be up to him to go after the diamond suit."

Jim: "A diamond lead from his own hand would be ducked by West and North's queen would be gobbled up by East's king. A second diamond lead from his hand would be won by West's ace and dummy's jack would become good."

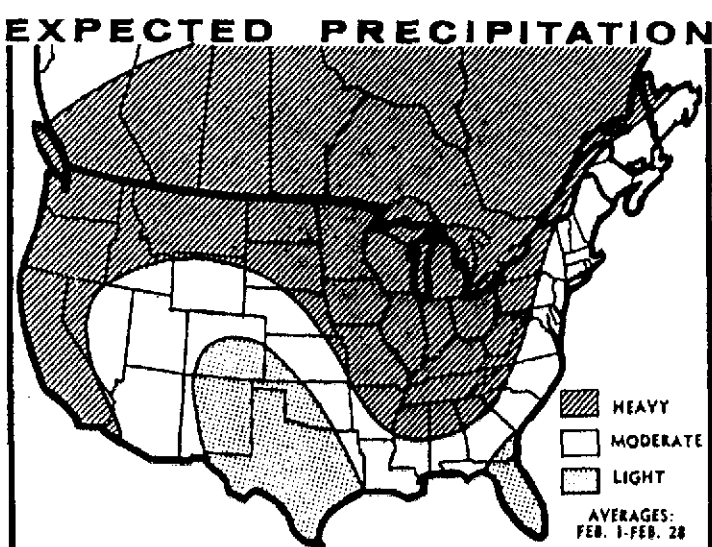

Oswald: "South would surely make two hearts and would get an overtrick unless the defense was very good."

Jim: "Let's get back to the bidding for a moment. We have seen South rebid one heart. This is automatic in expert circles. The reason is that a one-spade bid may shut out the heart suit. A one-heart call brings in the heart suit and leaves spades available at the one level in case North has four cards in that suit."

WET 'N' MILD

Maps show Weather Bureau's forecast of average temperature, precipitation for period thru Feb. 28.

Above-normal precipitation is forecast from the Appalachians through the Mississippi Valley and over northern portions of the Plains and Rockies.

Temperatures are expected to average above seasonal normals over the eastern half of the country as well as over the Southern Plains regions.

BOSTON—(NEA)—It is my conviction that heart disease before 80 is our fault and not God's will.

No one can deny that life is precious at any age, nor that there is tragedy whenever and wherever heart disease strikes. But the real tragedy comes when heart attacks or strokes kill a person in his 30s, 40s, 50s or early 60s. Unfortunately, the cardiovascular diseases are responsible for the deaths of 250,000 persons below 65 each year in the United States.

Pending discovery of clinical methods of prevention or cures, it is extremely wise to do all within one's power to minimize risks. The main thrust of our efforts should be directed against heart attacks, our No. 1 killer.

Calory control can help. It isn't enough to regulate the kind of foods you eat. The quantity must be limited so as to keep body weight at a reasonably normal level.

Obesity shouldn't be a problem, but it is. Alone among free living mammals, human beings gorge themselves on more food than is required for survival. Overweight means that the heart must work harder and the arteries rust sooner. Obese people are among the worst heart attack risks, especially if they also have high blood pressure.

There is one more important risk factor, cigarette smoking.

The heart and circulatory system evolved under conditions of rigorous physical activity, not at all like the sedentary lives so many people lead today. Much the same is true with respect to cigarettes. Human evolution did not contemplate that the lungs and body chemistry would be subjected to a continuing assault by cigarette smoke.

At the recent Scientific Sessions of the American Heart Association in Miami, evidence was presented to show that the severity of coronary artery involvement (atherosclerosis, or "hardening of the arteries") increases in relation to both the number of packs of cigarettes smoked daily and the number of years the habit has been practiced.

It was also brought out that exsmokers show a severity of atherosclerosis that is in-between those of non-smokers and "current users," suggesting that cigarette smoking does have a long-term or permanent deleterious effect on the arteries.

Finally, it was also disclosed that elevated levels of blood cholesterol, long implicated as a major risk factor in heart attacks, may also be associated with increased risk of lung cancer in cigarette smokers.

And since that meeting in Miami, an important scientific report has been published, incriminating cigarette smoking as an important source of carbon monoxide absorption with the reduction or rather replacement of oxyhemoglobin in the blood and limited disposal, especially to the already deprived heart muscle in coronary patients.

This also is known: If cigarette smokers had the same relatively favorable mortality experience as non-smokers, there would be about 80,000 fewer deaths each year from heart attacks, to say nothing of another 45,000 from lung cancer.

My advice to non-smokers is this: Never take your first puff. My suggestion to those who now smoke cigarettes is to drop the habit immediately. You'll feel better, breathe better, cough less, look better and live longer.

If I had a son of high school age ready to go forth in the world, the advice I'd give him would be as follows:

- Set up a regimen of regular exercise as strenuous as your physical condition warrants.

- Avoid wherever possible high-cholesterol foods and saturated fats, getting a bigger proportion of your fat intake from polyunsaturated (vegetable) fats.

- Don't gain a pound after the age of 22.

- Don't smoke. And if you are now smoking, stop it immediately.

- Make a practice of getting a physical examination at least once a year, with prompt medical treatment of any high blood pressure or diabetes that may be found.

This advice, I believe, is equally applicable to adults. If they followed it, I'm reasonable certain that heart attack deaths below 65 would be substantially reduced.

Young Democrats Irate

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — A resolution criticizing the Arkansas Senate for condemning the Arkansas Peace Information Center was adopted Saturday by the Executive Committee of the Arkansas Young Democrats Clubs.

The resolution said the Senate, composed of 34 Democrats and one Republican, acted "without a scintilla of evidence" when it adopted a resolution condemning the center.

"We the Young Democrats of Arkansas do in the tradition of Jefferson and more recently our honored U.S. Sen. J. W. Fulbright oppose this unfounded indictment of this group by our General Assembly," the resolution said.

Sen. Dan Sprick, who sponsored the resolution, said there was reason to believe the center was a communist-front organization. He did not specify the reasons.

The center was limelighted last month before Sprick's resolution passed when Mike Martin, 18, and his wife began passing out antiwar and anti-draft leaflets. The couple ran the center.

The committee voted to hold its state convention May 3-4 at Hot Springs.

Red Fishing Fleet Hovers Off Coast

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — Nearly 100 Soviet-bloc trawlers dragged their nets off the Virginia coast today, some less than 20 miles from the Wallops Island rocket center where a routine meteorological launch was planned tonight.

Worsening weather raised the prospect of problems, however, for both the launch and the trawlers, which during the night rode 10-foot seas and 40-mile-an-hour winds under the watch of two Coast Guard cutters.

Most of the fleet was amid schools of cod and sea bass from 25 to 45 miles off the entrance to Hampton Roads, one of the largest naval installations on the East Coast.

The remainder, nine trawlers and the 600-foot factory ship Pomorze, were 60 miles to the north, 18 miles off Wallops and just south of the Maryland line.

It was off Wallops and neighboring Chincoteague Islands that the trawlers first appeared last Thursday, growing first to a dozen, then to 50 or more by the weekend.

Coast Guard spotters, airborne on Saturday, said 20 of the vessels approached within 10 miles of Wallops, violating the 12-mile coastal fishing zone claimed by the United States.

All fled back to sea before the cutter Point Arena arrived but were warned that further violations would be boarded and seized.

The 82-foot cutter carried only an 11-man crew and an 80mm mortar. The Pomorze and four other Soviet "mother" ships in the fleet are more than six times her size.

But Lt. (j.g.) Rex Westling, the cutter's 24-year-old skipper, said Sunday night the entire incident was more of an economic than a military matter.

Just the same, the 200-foot cutter Cherokee, with a crew of 90 and a three-inch gun, and another 82-footer, the Point Brown, replaced the Point Arena Sunday.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Wallops was unlikely target for espionage since "99 per cent of our work is unclassified."

Monday, February 10, 1969

Tonight's launch, typical of meteorological studies at the base, involves 13 small rocket shots designed to measure wind speed and direction in the upper atmosphere.

The first oil well in the United States was drilled near Titusville, Pa. Drilling of the well was begun in June, 1859.
